Pharmaceutical Training Firm

The challenge

A start-up firm offering strategy and training services to the pharmaceutical industry was in need of support services for their growing team's email, project management and file sharing requirements.

What we did

navitend consulted with the client to identify the best-fit solution for cloud-based solutions including hosted email and cloud-based servers.

The result

This client is growing with the confidence that their infrastructure needs are both capable and right-sized for their needs and budget.
